The White House seems to be getting really paranoid. When I asked for press copies for press use of the President's transcripts and accompnaying statement, it sent me his speech only and used a 30¢ stamp on it and the accompanying letter. Both are frankable, properly. Unless the White House never uses frank or postage meters.

The envelope had merely "The White House" as a return address. The lable used added the words "from" and "Washington, D.C." The Letterhear, "The Whihe House, Wahington," without even the ".DC." None used a zip code. HW 5/18/74
